CONSENT DECREE

This action was initiated on August 26, 2003 by plaintiff Equal Employment Opportunity Commission (hereinafter “EEOC”), an agency of the United States Government, alleging that defendant Boston Market Corporation violated the Americans With Disabilities Act (hereinafter “ADA”) and Title VII of the Civil Rights Act of 1964 (hereinafter “Title VII”) by subjecting plaintiff-intervenor Christine Gagliardi to a hostile environment on the basis of her disability and sex (female), by retaliating against plaintiff-intervenor and by constructively discharging her. On February 13, 2004, the Court allowed Christine Gagliardi to intervene into this lawsuit.

Boston Market Corporation (“Boston Market”) has denied all of the material allegations of the Complaint and the Intervenor Complaint and deny that plaintiff-intervenor was subjected to a hostile environment, retaliated against, constructively discharged or discriminated against in any way. Boston Market denies that its notices and postings regarding its non-discrimination policies are or were deficient.

The parties agree that it is in their mutual interest to fully resolve the matter without further litigation. This agreement is not an admission of liability by defendant Boston Market Corporation.

EEOC, Christine Gagliardi and Boston Market Corporation hereby stipulate and consent to the entry of this Decree as final and binding between the parties entering this agreement and their successors or assigns.

The parties have agreed that this Decree may be entered without Findings of Fact and Conclusions of Law having been made and entered by the Court.

In consideration of the mutual promises of each party to this Decree, the sufficiency of which is hereby acknowledged, it is agreed and IT IS ORDERED, ADJUDGED, AND DECREED AS FOLLOWS:

General Provisions

1 This Decree resolves all of the issues raised by EEOC Charge No. 160-A2-0461, the complaint filed by the EEOC in this action, and the complaint filed by plaintiff-intervenor Gagliardi in this action. This Decree in no way affects EEOC's right to process any pending or future charges that may be filed against defendant in accordance with standard EEOC procedures, and to commence civil actions on any such charges.

2. The parties agree that this Court has jurisdiction of the subject matter of this action and of the parties, that venue is proper, and that all administrative prerequisites have been met.

3 No party shall contest the jurisdiction of the federal court to enforce this Decree or its terms or the right of any party to bring an enforcement suit upon breach of any of the terms of this Decree by any other party.

4. Breach of any term of this Decree should be deemed to be a substantive breach of this Decree.

5. Nothing in this Decree shall be construed to preclude any party from bringing proceedings to enforce this Decree in the event that any other party fails to perform any of the promises and representations contained herein.

6. Boston Market Corporation and its managers, officers, agents, successors, and assigns, agree that they will not: discriminate against any individual because of the individual's sex or mental, emotional, or learning disability; engage in harassment toward any employee on the basis of sex or mental, emotional, or learning disability; or engage in related retaliation or constructive discharge against any individual for reporting any such harassment or discrimination. For the purpose of enforcing this Decree, this paragraph applies only to the restaurants in Ronkonkoma, Smithtown, Selden, Commack, Shirley, Deer Park and East Islip, New York.

Written Policy

7 Defendant Boston Market Corporation has adopted and will maintain the following statement of non-discrimination:

Boston Market has zero-tolerance for unlawful discrimination, including harassment and sexual harassment, and for retaliation against employees who report such conduct, who cooperate in any company investigation into a violation of company policies, or who are involved in or who cooperate in any investigation by a governmental agency regarding complaints of discrimination, harassment or retaliation. These policies apply to employees at any and all activities, work related or not, if these activities impact the work environment. These policies also apply to customers, suppliers and vendors. Employees who violate the policy will be disciplined up to and including termination.

This applies to all employment practices, including recruiting, hiring, pay, performance reviews, training and development, promotions, and other terms and conditions of employment. Discrimination or harassment of a Boston Market employee, whether by another employee, supplier, vendor or customer, will not be tolerated.

The content of each of the three trainings is to be approved by EEOC. The EEOC will advise Boston Market whether the content of the three trainings is approved within fourteen (14) days after it receives the content from Boston Market. If the EEOC does not advise Boston Market within fourteen (14) that the training is not approved, the content will be deemed approved. The training is to be conducted by Boston Market's training staff for all of defendant's employees in the area which currently includes the restaurants in Ronkonkoma, Smithtown, Selden, Commack, Shirley, Deer Park and East Islip, New York, and specifically in those restaurants and any additional restaurants operated by Boston Market Corporation that may be opened during the duration of this Decree which are in the same area as any of these restaurants.

Complaint Procedure

Boston Market's Zero Tolerance Policy (the "Policy") states that all claims of harassment or discrimination or other violations of the Policy must be investigated. This means that any complaint of harassment, discrimination or other violation of the Policy, however made, is subject to the following procedure:

- 1 A claim of harassment or discrimination or other violation of the Policy may be reported to a restaurant General Manager, an Area Manager, a Human Resources representative or on a toll free telephone number established for this purpose and manned by a Human Resources professional. The person receiving a claim on the toll free number will report it to the appropriate Human Resources representative and to the Legal Department.
2. Human Resources and/or the Legal Department will be responsible for conducting an investigation of any claim with assistance from the General Manager or the Area Manager as appropriate to the claim. The investigation will commence as soon as possible after the claim is made. If appropriate, the person accused of the alleged inappropriate behavior may be suspended during the investigation of the claim.
3. The individual who made the claim will be asked to describe in writing what occurred and will be interviewed to learn the facts surrounding the claim. The individual will be advised that while Boston Market cannot guarantee complete confidentiality, the investigation will be conducted in as confidential a manner as possible under the circumstances. The individual also will be told that Boston Market has a policy prohibiting retaliation, and that if he or she believes that they have been treated differently as a result of coming forward, he or she should report their concern immediately to Human Resources.
4. Anyone identified as having knowledge of what allegedly occurred will be interviewed and generally asked to give a written statement as to the facts of what he or she saw, heard or experienced. The individual will be advised that the investigation is a confidential matter and that he or she should not discuss it or anything said during the interview with anyone else. The individual also will be told that Boston Market has a policy prohibiting retaliation, and that if he or she believes that they have been treated differently as a result of participating in the investigation, he or she should report their concern immediately to Human Resources.
5. The CCTV system will be reviewed to ascertain whether anything was captured by the cameras. If so, a copy of the relevant portions of the CCTV will be made and preserved.
6. The employee who is accused of the Policy violation will be interviewed and given the opportunity to respond to the claims and explain his or her behavior.

7. A determination will be made by Human Resources and/or the Legal Department whether a violation of the Policy has occurred. If it cannot be determined if a violation occurred, the individual who is accused of the Policy violation will be advised of the determination. The individual also will be reminded of the Policy and advised that if the company receives another complaint he or she may be subject to disciplinary action.
8. If the investigation reveals that a violation of the Policy has occurred, the individual will be disciplined. The specific disciplinary action will depend upon the severity of the violation and the manner in which similar violations have been handled in the past. Any such decision must be cleared by Human Resources and/or the Legal Department.
9. The individual making the claim will be told when the investigation has been completed. If the claim is found to have merit, the individual also will be told that appropriate action has been taken. If it could not be determined whether there was a violation of the Policy, the individual making the claim will be told that the individual accused of the Policy violation has been reminded of Boston Market's policy and warned about future conduct. The individual making the claim will be reminded about Boston Market's policy prohibiting retaliation and advised again to speak to Human Resources immediately if he or she believes that they have been treated differently as a result of coming forward.
10. Any documents, including statements generated or collected as part of the investigation, should be collected, placed in a file and sent to the Human Resource representative or Legal Department to be retained
